

SCHOOL OPENS ON MONDAY JANUARY 13

Will Be Thoroughly Cleaned and Counsinmed Before Opening—Board Decides to Have Medical Inspection of School and and Engage Nurse Falls for This Purpose.

If present arrangements are carried out as planned the school here will be opened up for business Monday, Jan. 13th.

So far as this town is concerned the influenza epidemic appears to have run its course. The last patient was removed from the school several days ago and the board has been busy ever since getting the building in shape to resume studies. This has been no small task for nearly two months and a half the school has been running as a well equipped emergency hospital. The heating equipment has all been removed and the building is being given a thorough cleaning after which it will be thoroughly disinfected.
As the new year is a day later this week on account of the New Year's holidays we are able to give a full account of the treatment which was held Thursday evening.

There was a full turnout of the board and after the newly elected members took the oath of office G. G.
Patterson was chosen as chairman of the board for the ensuing year. On taking the chair he welcomed Mr. Colfax the newly elected member, to the board, and expressed the hope that his connection with it would be profitable and congenial.

W. H. Riddell was re-elected secretary and the following standing committees were appointed: Finance—Patterson and Riddell.
Buildings—McLachlan and Colfax.
Grounds and Health—Brown and Riddell.

It was decided to hold the regular meetings on the first and third Thursdays of each month.

The matter of setting up affairs in connection with using the school for emergency hospital came up for discussion but as there was no definite information in the hands of the board chairman and secretary were appointed a committee to wait on the board of health to get the desired information.

A motion was passed authorizing the secretary to request W. Gray to act as his duties as caretaker of the school as it had now been taken out of the hands of the board of health.

Question of opening the school for business was brought up and after a lengthy discussion it was decided that the school should be kept absolutely clean and sanitary before opening up for school purposes. With this object in view the building committee was instructed to have the floors scrubbed and the walls and ceilings disinfected at once. This should be done in the next week and it is the intention to have the building ready to open up for business on Monday, Jan. 13th.

Chairman Patterson introduced the subject of medical inspection in the school and stated that he thought it best for medical inspection in the school will be special attention paid to this important matter. A motion was then to secure the services of Nurse Fettes, who has had some experience in this line, to make a regular inspection of the children at attending school as a safeguard against the spreading of any contagious disease.

It was decided to have the telephone left in the school as a precautionary measure in case of fire or accidents.

At 7 o'clock some accounts were read to the finance committee with instructions to have same laid if found correct, the meeting adjourned.

TILLES WILL APPROVE BRITAIN'S NAVAL PLAN

In addressing the chamber of deputies Premier Chamberlain made it clear that it is a big intention to to the finance committee with instructions to have same laid if found correct, the meeting adjourned.

As the minister of labor has reported that unemployment is quite rapidly increasing and is bound to grow as the winter season advances, it has been decided to establish a bureau of employment for a period of 15 months from January 1, 1913, in such provinces as do not feel able to assume financial responsibility in operating bureaus under the provisions of the Employment Offices Co-ordination Act. The minister of labor is empowered to call well under a year order-in-council to establish and maintain offices at such points as he may deem necessary provided the government supplies office space and equipment required.

Chinamen Celebrate on New Years Day

In order to fittingly celebrate the eighteenth anniversary of the Chinese republic the Chinamen in town invited a number of the business men in town to meet with them in their dining rooms on New Year's afternoon. As it was also the beginning of the fiscal year of the reading room club, administrators were taken of any occasion to install the newly elected officers for the year.

Their rooms were fittingly decorated with flags and bunting for the occasion and during the afternoon a dainty lunch was served. About eighty-five were present and a very appropriate program was carried out.

In opening the program, the president, Chan Bock King, gave an interesting review of the history of China, and the trying times through which the passed leading up to the forming of a republic. Although the republic of government was not universal in the Celestial kingdom he said that based upon population about half the people enjoyed that freedom and privilege. All the Chinamen in Canada, he said, favored and supported the form of government, and while here they were anxious to make good citizens in this country. Among the speakers who replied to the president's address of welcome were Mr.
H. O. B. Gibson, C. T. Hall, Miss E.
Broadfoot and T. A. Hicks. These speakers complimented the chairman for their success in connection with their reading room and assured them that so long as they exerted their entire effort along this line they would have a tendency to make them better men and better citizens, they would receive the assistance and support of the citizens of the town. Mr. Henry and Y. B. Watson, two Chinamen from Medicine Hat, members of St. John's Sunday school, addressed the gathering, and after thanking the citizens of the town for their evident interest in them, addressed a few words to their brothers which they applauded them to live good, clean, honest lives and thus win the esteem and confidence of those with whom they came in contact.

The officers and members of the Chinese reading room have asked us to extend our invitation to all those who helped to make their annual celebration such a success.

Welome League Has A Successful Dance

The visit drive and dance given in Rediff last Friday evening attracted one of the largest crowds we have had to a dance in Rediff.
The dance was given at the home of the league. It was a very fine evening and a good representation from Medicine Hat and all spent a most enjoyable evening.

Progressive was the first order of the evening. This gave the guests a good opportunity to get well acquainted and soon the large gathering was as one big family. When the score for the whist was tallied it was found that Miss Cochrane and Mr.
McClary had won the prizes.

A very fine lunch was then served after which the hall was cleared and dancing was proceeded with. The excellent music furnished by the local orchestra and the fine condition of the floor paved the way for a most enjoyable time the last part of the program.

The great success of the evening is due to the untiring efforts of Mrs.
Cochrane, who has been in the charge with us to extend their hunks to all those who helped make the event the great success it was.

ELECTIONS IN BRITAIN FOR LLOYD GEORGE

Coalition Government Returned By Large Majority—Only One Woman Elected—A squith
Among the Defeated.

The returns of the British elections are now pretty well all in and show that Lloyd George and his coalition government have been returned to power by an overwhelming majority of almost five to one.

The broad features of the election results announced are the sweeping victory of the Lloyd George coalition, the complete rout of the Asquiths, the pacifists, the women candidates, and the victory of the Sinn Fein following the line.

That the coalition government would be victorious had been a foregone conclusion, despite the rumbling of rumor between the polling and the coupling of the votes that Labor would make an unexpected show, that David Lloyd George would command an overwhelming majority in the new house in the proportion of about five to one had never been comtemplated, even by the most sanguine coalitionists. And since coalition is now operative, in distinct and more Conservative than Liberal in Composition and tendencies, this result of the first election under the extended franchise and with the participation of millions of women voters is most suggestive.

Of 14 women candidates, only one was elected to sit in the house, namely, a Sinn Fein, Countess Markievicz, who was elected for St. Patrick's division of Dublin City. But as the Sinn Feiners refuse to sit at Westminster, the house of commons will be composed of males.

Among the surprises of the election was the defeat of Herbert Asquith, former premier. He is rejected in company with most of his closest lieutenants, including Sir John Simon, former home secretary; Reginald McKinnon, former chancellor of the exchequer; Walter Runciman, former president of the board of trade; Herbert Samuel, former postmaster-general.

Labor fared badly in the elections.
They had expected to elect at least 100 members whereas they have only elected 75, of whom 10 are considerable.

According to latest returns the standing is as follows: Coalition Unionists 254 Coalition Liberals 127
Coalition Laborites 75
Independents 2
Asquith Liberals 87
Laborites 65
National Party 6
Independents 2
Socialists 2
Sinn Feiners 2
Irish Nationalists 2

On the night after Christmas, boxing night, the members of St. Ambrose church paid a surprise visit to Herbert and Miss Gibson at the vicarage, and a very jolly visit it was. The large party first of all settled down to a whist drive. Reg. Cann had packed along his violin, and after the game of cards there was a lot of music and singing and time went all too fast.

Later came delicious lunch with the visitors brought with them and in the course of the Mr. Geo. Worts, on behalf of the church, presented Miss Gibson, the organist, with a very handsome black leather valise bag lined with silk. It was quite a surprise and Miss Gibson was quite overjoyed.

In suitable words she thanked the members for the gift and showed how she appreciated the kind thought. After this Reg. Cann got busy again and there was some good music and songs and the happy party broke up after singing Old Lang Syne.

German submarines which have been surrendered are being divided among the Allies, according to the London Daily Mail. The newspaper states that the first lot to Italy, T. Japan and 4 to the United States.
The U-boats turned over to the United States are said to be on their way across the Atlantic. The newspaper does not specify the manner in which the rest of the 127 submarines are to be allotted.

Redcliff Young Man Dies in Russia

Probably the saddest news that has come to Redcliff for many a day was that which came in an official message to Wm. Henderson, Jr., today announcing the sudden death of his son Willie in Russia.

It will be remembered that Willie Henderson joined the Siberian force and left Canada for Siberia only a few short months ago. According to the message he died from spinal meningitis on December 29th.

At the time deceased joined the force he was employed in the Broad way Department Store here. He was only about twenty years of age and as he had grown up from boyhood in this town there was probably no younger man in town better known or held a higher place in the esteem of our citizens than did Willie Henderson. He was a clean, honest, industrious young man, the pride of his parents and the hero of the young members of the family.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to Mr. and Mrs.
Henderson and family in this time of sore affliction.

We know Willie Henderson as a neighbor and in a business way and we know of no higher tribute that can be paid to his memory than to be able to say he was kind and thoughtful towards his parents and dear loved by his brothers and sisters. There is no man wrong whom any young man about whom that can be said.

Deceased was a grandson of our esteemed citizens, Mr. and Mrs. Wm.
Henderson, Sr.

Glass Plant to Install New Machine

During the next few days the Dominion Glass plant here will install new machinery, more modern and capable in order to keep pace with their rapidly increasing business at this point. Most important among these improvements will be the installing of a new Owens No. 10 bottling machine.
The bottling machine which has been in operation in this plant steadily for the past few years has been the wonder and admiration of visitors because of its almost human actions and the improvements will be the installing of a new Owens No. 10 bottling machine.

LABOR MEN TO CONVENT IN REDCLIFF

Will Hold One Day Session Here Next Tuesday—150 Delegates From All Parts of the Province Are Expected.

Representatives of several labor unions throughout the province of Alberta will hold their annual convention in Medicine Hat and Redcliff next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

According to arrangements made by Redcliff's representatives at the convention in Lethbridge last year it was decided that this year's convention should be held as above mentioned.

We understand that plans are now completed and will be carried out as follows: The delegates will meet in convention in the hall on Saturday evening and will have morning, afternoon and evening sessions. The evening one will be open and will take the form of a reception. After this about fifty of the delegates will come to Redcliff on the midnight train and the remainder will come up by auto the following morning. On their arrival pore morning and afternoon sessions will be held and the evening will be given over to an open meeting in which it is expected that several interesting addresses will be delivered and a musical program rendered.

As labor representatives from all over the province, numbering about 100, will be present on this occasion, there is no doubt that a very interesting and successful meeting will be held in this town.

St. Ambrose S.S. Has Successful Xmas Tree

On New Year's eve St. Ambrose Sunday school Christmas tree was held in Rediff's hall, in spite of the bad weather there was a good muster of children and friends. After a good romp time was served and the children were very busy for while with the various dainties on the table. Games followed and the kiddies had a great time with their toys, books, puzzles and lemon and other games. About seven o'clock word came that Santa Claus was coming and soon he was busy handing out presents to the children.

From a Christmas tree that sparkled with bright candles. The climax was reached, however, when the names of the children of the Sunday school, he handed to the Rev. H. C. B. Gibson, a very handsome, massive ink stand with two big glass ink pots suitably engraved, also a brass pipe stand. The Rev. was very clearly taken by surprise which only added to the enjoyment. He thanked the children for the very beautiful gifts and the kind thoughts and wishes which prompted it, and assured them that he would treasure it in time to come as a very happy memory of the Sunday school in Redcliff. After this came the distal and marks and prize giving. The three special prizes were won by Violet Leach, Barbara Lyall and Nora Worts. A program prepared by various children followed and after singing the Christmas carol and the Maple Leaf Forever, a very happy close was given by the Rev. H. C. B. Gibson.

Best thanks are due to all those who kindly helped to make such an enjoyable evening and to those who kindly gave prizes.

HEALTH.

There probably never was a time in history when the question of health and health conditions were more universally discussed or when more legislation was being enacted along these lines, than at the present time. Almost every country in the world is now concerned more than ever before about the health of its people and in the last British election the question of health conditions occupied a prominent part.

The interest in this direction is another of the many outcomes of the war. During the recruiting season it was discovered that a large percentage of the young men presenting themselves for examination were suffering from ailments which could have been prevented under proper health conditions. It was also brought out that under the conditions and examinations of the young men while in training the death rate was practically nil. This all paved the way for the present agitation and the result is that in the very near future we may expect greatly improved conditions.

The influenza epidemic, too, has shown the great need for some standing organized society for handling such emergencies and has prompted greater efforts on the part of the V. A. D. In our last issue we had an account of how to organize branches of this organization. It might be a good thing if steps were taken in this direction in Redcliff.

LABOR CONVENTION.

The Review welcomes to town the labor union delegates who are to meet here for an afternoon and evening session next Tuesday afternoon. We trust their stay here will be as profitable and as profitable as that much good will come out of their meeting together.

Redcliff should feel greatly complimented on having such a large and influential gathering. We are greatly indebted to the Redcliff representatives at the annual convention at Lethbridge last year for having made the arrangements which make this meeting here possible.

There is no doubt that a number of important questions will come up for discussion at this convention. These questions will have a far-reaching effect upon the whole province during the reconstruction period through which we are now passing and we have no doubt that these leaders of labor unions will deal with them in a manner that will bring honor to labor and credit to the province as a whole.

The Alberta unions have already been responsible for much advanced legislation and for great improvement in labor conditions in this province. Their conventions have always been conducted along business lines and their officials have always kept well abreast of the times.

While these delegates are in Redcliff our citizens should give them a good reception.

The European war was not the only thing that brought trouble upon the heads of places to the public attention. Here in this part of Alberta prohibition put Maple Creek on the map and then took it off again. Then Montana became popular but on the 31st of last month even it passed into history. When the automobile highway sets completed Minneapolis may be the next place of interest to Albertans.

A WISE MOVE.

The Saskatchewan government is acting wisely in following the example of Alberta and deciding to have only one language taught in their schools. The Saskatchewan opposition in the legislature is also showing the right spirit when it supports the movement. Unfortunately there are a few on the government side of the house in Saskatchewan who are opposed to this but it does not take much study to figure out that these are more concerned in getting the foreign vote than in making better citizens out of the foreigners. It is unfortunate that in matters of this kind which are so important and upon which so much of Canada's future welfare depends, there are those who make the task more difficult by stirring up the foreign element and catering to their vote. This being the case the government concerned should go the limit in their endeavor to silence such narrow-gauged politicians. The past four years has taught that governments can do many things which the hitherto thought were impossible. Why not then make it a criminal offence for these vote catching politicians to introduce the language question into election campaigns?

In the matter of language and special privileges to foreigners Saskatchewan is in a serious condition and should lose no time in getting control of the situation. At the present time there are in that province over 59,000 people of German origin, 23,000 Latins, 38,000 Scandinavians and 47,000 Slavs. If these people are allowed to settle in colonies, have their own school and teach their own languages they will never become good Canadian citizens. On the other hand with one common school language, where Canadian ideals, customs and laws are taught it will only be a matter of one generation till they will develop into good Canadians.

CANADA FINANCING HERSELF.

The Great War has taught Canadians that they all must save and fortunately, through War Savings Stamps this can be done profitably, for they yield more than 4½ per cent compounded half-yearly.

Savings made the Victory Loans possible. For years back a number of our people had been spending a little less than they made and when the Government called for money they came forward with their savings. There was no trick in what they did; it was simply itself.

Now this saving must go on. Canada will need many millions for new enterprises, and since she cannot borrow money abroad, as she could in the days before the war, this means that her own people must provide it. In order to make saving both easy and attractive the Dominion government has launched the war savings plan. By this method a person who now invests $4.00 in War Savings Stamps will get back $5.00 in January, 1924. This means a rate of interest a little over 4½ per cent payable half-yearly. There is no limit on the number of Stamps a person may buy. Could anything be easier?

Who has been in command of the British fleet since the retirement of Sir John Jellicoe, and who is to be created an Earl as a reward for his services.

PROTECT THE TREES.

With such a scarcity of trees in the district around Redcliff, and the scarcity of suitable places for holding picnics, one would think that the few we have would be sacredly guarded and tenderly nursed along. According to reports, however, this does not seem to be the case. We are informed that there are those who have been making frequent trips to the oasis on the bald prairie north of town which is now so popular as a picnic ground for the surrounding country, and helping themselves to some of the finest trees on it. This is a great mistake and should be stopped at once. Otherwise it will not be long till this popular resort will be completely wiped out.

If we mistake not this very pretty bluff is on government land so no one has any right to touch these trees without first obtaining permission from the government. In fact there is a heavy penalty for doing so.

President Royally

Received at Palace
No more regal acting over has been arranged in Buckingham Palace than that which greeted President Wilson and Mrs. Wilson, when they were escorted into the banquet hall for the president's breakfast state dinner.

Every royal formality which has attended special occasions for two or three hundred years was carried out before and during the banquet. President Wilson, with Queen Mary, led the procession into the dining hall, preceded by officials of the palace splendidly costumed, bearing swords and walking backwards and making obeisance to the guests.

Immediately behind the president and the queen came King George and Mrs. Wilson. They were followed by members of the royal family.

Important Business

for U.A.D. Convention Standardization of farm machinery, prohibition of importation of labor the setting apart of a fund to be used in educating the farmers on the effect of high tariff, remuneration for parents of soldiers who were not wholly dependent on the soldiers, expropriation of land for soldier settlement, assignments to the small debtors' act, provincial insurance against hail, drought and frost; appointment of farmer-commissioners for the legislature and a protest against increasing the tax on farm lands are some of the subjects that will be discussed at the coming convention of the U. P. A. according to resolutions being sent into Secretary Higginsham.

Harvest Vale local is responsible for recruiting calling for closer supervision of alien immigration and the subsidizing of railway companies engaging laborers in foreign lands. It asks for tangible consideration for the benefits of soldiers who have not been wholly dependent upon the sons who went to the front. The same local asks that instead of asking the veterans to go to Peace River suitable land be expropriated near to the C. P. R. lines.

Canadians Pensions

Run into Millions

The minister of finance has furnished Sir Robert Borden with an estimate of the total amount of Canada's pension obligations. The pension commissioners are of the opinion that the maximum of pension will not be reached for 18 months or two years. They will probably remain at the maximum for five years and be gradually reduced until their termination.

An actuarial calculation estimates a total cost of $240,000,000, calculated on a three per cent basis, or $250,000,000 calculated on a four per cent basis or $248,000,000 on a five per cent basis. These sums represent the amount of money to be today which, at the rate of interest mentioned, should take care of Canada's pension obligations arising out of the war.

Nearly Six Million Killed in the War

With the issue of the official figures of the French losses in the war, it is possible to arrive at the approximate estimate of the appalling toll of life. The dead so far number 5,995,044. The individual national losses in dead (thus far announced are):

British,	705,721;	French,	1,071,526;
American,	35,478;	Russian,	1,788,000; Austrian,	800,000;	German,	1,800,000.

The total German casualties are given by the Berlin "Vorwärts" as 6,330,000, and the Austrian total was placed at 4,000,000.

Serbia, it killed wounded and prisoners, lost 320,000 men.

Allies May Have to Intervene in Russia

France is absolutely in agreement that full publicity be given to the proceedings of the peace conference. This announcement was made by Stephen Pichon, foreign minister, in the chamber of deputies.

Intervention in Russia, the minister declared, is inevitable, but it would be of a defensive character, so far as French troops were concerned. If of offensive operations were undertaken against the Bolsheviks, he added, they must be carried out by Russian forces.

The banquet given to President Wilson in Buckingham Palace last week had nothing on the turkey dinner given by H. J. Simpson last Friday evening for a few of his grass widower and bachelor friends. The invitations announced the dinner to "take place at 7.30 promptly at the hour the host, neatly dressed in a suit of blue serge with a grey sweater gracefully draped over each shoulder, lead the guests to the dining room to the sweet strains of music played by T. McKelvie, who presided at the piano. At the table F. Baird, dressed in Scotch tweed over Stansfield's Unshrinkable, assisted the host in pouring the tea, while E. L. Stone occupied a seat at the head of the table and animated the first little Gilbert Tynnot, who sat to the host's left, made a very charming flower boy and during the evening presided each guest with a buttonhole. W. Wilkins, of Montreal, who made his debut at a Redcliff gathering of this kind, kindly consented to cut the last while C. W. Resda passes the pickles. After dinner a pleasant social hour was spent in song and music.

There are a great many cures and preventative for the "flu" going the rounds these days but one of the simplest brought to our notice was by a caller at the office one small portion. He claims that a small portion of garlic taken every morning before breakfast is one of the best preventative.

On Sunday last Mrs. J. Rutherford celebrated the thirty-fifth anniversary of her arrival in Alberta. As a little girl Mrs. Rutherford arrived in Medicine Hat and her rehearsal of conditions as they existed at that time in the present gas city are indeed very interesting. In discussing the matter our informant said that a few years ago when the epidemic broke out in Russia and people were dying like flies, this was discovered as a preventative and soon put a stop to the spreading of the disease.

Polish Troops Plan Raid on Germany

The Polish army which is marching toward Berlin has as its object "a tearing raid into Germany" according to the Polish agency at Lausanne. The army is well armed and is supported by artillery and cavalry. The army already has occupied important railway centres, including Erevan, Dresden and Posenau and has captured a large amount of railway stock with little resistance. Germans are arming demobilized troops and fighting is expected, although some of the demobilized soldiers are refusing to serve. The agency says as German railways are disorganized there is a possibility of a well organized Polish army reaching Berlin.

Russian casualties in the war are said to have totaled eight millions. And thus far Russia has got nothing out of the affair but trouble for herself. Her present condition is worse than of Germany.

Reports reaching Paris Tuesday were that the Lenin government was greatly alarmed over the attitude of the peasants.
